HISTORY OF ARMSTRONG FAMILY
HAWKINS COUNTY, TENNESSEE

Written by William Lyons Armstrong
(July 3, 1837 - June 20, 1908)

The original name (Armstrong) was Fairbeorn who was an armorbearer for one of the chiefs of Scotland in the 11th Century.

William Armstrong, Second, our great-grandfather, was a native of Ireland. Married Mary Caldwell, He died at an advanced age, was buried on what is now the Amis farm in Carter's Valley. He was married twice. His second wife was a Morrisett.

Sally William Armstrong, Third, our grandfather, with his wm II father and brother James and five six sisters came from Augusta County, Virginia before the Revolution, and they located the farm in Carter's Valley where Amis now lives. At beginning of the war he went back to Virginia and served a term in the army. Born 1757.

The other members of the family married and located as follows:

1. d brother of wm III James Armstrong settled on Caney Creek north of Rogersville.
Elizabeth married and Armstrong (no kin) who was raised in Prince Edward County, Virginia, and they moved to McMinn County, Tennessee near Athens.
2 Sallie married George Maxwell.
Jane married a Woods of Virginia.
3 Ann married Jesse Maxwell, and they settled near Nashville.
4- Mary married a Mr. Berry of Kentucky.
3- Annis married George Rutledge and settled at Blountville. This Mrs. Rutledge had two sons: 'William and George, and nine daughters. Ann married Samuel Rhea, father of our missionary. Nancy married George Netherland. One married William Anderson. Elizabeth married David Larkins of Alabama. Sally married a Clayton of Alabama. Lou married Samuel Hughes and moved to Cocke County, Tennessee. Mary married Judge Powel of Rogersville. Nellie married Ben Powel of Memphis. And another married a King.

Our grandfather, William Armstrong, Third, married Elizabeth Galbraith, and they raised a family of four sons, Arthur, Clinton, Cary and William; and six daughters, Elizabeth, Margaret, Mary, Sally, Louisiana and Julia.

Arthur married a Rogers and settled on a farm south of the river opposite Surgoinsville. Clinton married Lucy Rogers and late in life moved his family to Kirkwood, twelve miles west of St. Louis, Missouri. Cary married a Mrs. Tucker and settled at Savannah on the Tennessee River near the battlefield of Shiloh.

William, Fourth, our father, married Mary Young, and first went to housekeeping on the farm where Dr. Hoffman now lives in Carter's Valley. Subsequently, he came into possession of the old homestead, Stony Point, and died there in August 1860.

Of the daughters, Elizabeth first married Stanwix Hord, and they moved to McMinnville, Tennessee. Hord died early in life, and she then married Henry Bradford, was again left a widow, and finally moved with her family to Texas.

Margaret married a Dr. Cook and settled in Indianapolis. Mary married James Amis and lived in Carter's Valley.

Sally married Eldridge Hord and lived at New Canton.

Louise married F. S. DeWolfe and lived in Rogersville.

Julia married David Lyons.

Our grandmother, Elizabeth Galbraith Armstrong, had four brothers and six sisters: John Galbraith moved to Missouri; Annis, to Indiana; Andrew, ten miles west of Rogersville; and Joseph died in Carter's Valley, leaving one child, Joseph B. Galbraith. Of the six sisters, Sally married Robert Young; Margaret married John Young; Julia, a Mr. Davis, and they moved to Haywood County; Tabitha married Sam Henderson; Mary married a Looney; and Ann, a Larkins.

My father, William Armstrong, Fourth, married Mary Young and raised seven children: Henry, Sallie, Margaret, Matilda, Alfred, Mary and William. Of these, three daughters died unmarried. Henry married Susan Miller, and they raised seven children: Frederick, Mary, Pitser, William, Sallie, Fannie and Henry; moved in 1859 to Lafayette County, Missouri, and settled near Odessa. His wife died in 1874, and he afterward married Jane Latham, moved with her to Texas, and died at Pilot Point, February 1895.

Alfred married Elizabeth Leeper, and they also raised seven children: Frank, Clinton, Lizzie, Mary, Gawen, Sallie and Alfred. He served during the war in Company A, 12th, Tennessee Cavalry, C.S.A.; died July 29th, 1864, at Winchester, Virginia.

Mary married Sam Powel, and they raised six children: Jessie, Sallie, Frank, Annis, William and Margaret; moved after the close of the war to Hernando, Mississippi where they still reside.

William, the Fifth (the writer) married Sallie C. Burem, and to break the record, they had twelve children whose names in full are as follows: William H. S. Osborne, Alice Ransom, Loula James P. Burem, Mary Frank Walker, Edward Brown Stuart, Charels Holloman Reade, Robert C. Allen, Margaret Shotwell McEwen, Richard Stoddard Ewell, Sallie Caldwell Burem, Annis Rathborn Powel, Julia Fitzhugh Lee.

Of the above, the two youngest, Annis and Julia, died in childhood; the others are still living at this date - Mary 20, 1901 - and are all grown, the oldest, forty, and the youngest, twenty-one years of age.

Our grandfather, John Young, married Margaret Galbraith, a sister of Grandmother Armstrong, and they raised twelve children: Seven sons - William, Robert, Claiborne, Howard, Arthur, John and George; five daughters: Elizabeth, Mary, Juliet, Harriet and Caroline.

Elizabeth married James Young and settled in Lafayette County, Missouri where her husband became quite a prominent politician, served several terms in the Legislature, and was once elected Lieutenant Governor of the state.

Mary married William Armstrong, Fourth; Juliet married C. C. Miller; Harriet married F. S. DeWolfe; and Caroline married N. J. Carter and moved to Lafayette County, Missouri.

William, the eldest son, married a Miss Rutledge; moved to Boone County, Indiana; married a second time, a Miss Vannice.

Robert married Letty Caldwell, settled in Lafayette County, Missouri. Claiborne married a Miss Russell and settled in Boone County, Indiana. Howard married and settled first in Missouri, then removed to Texas. Arthur married a McChesney and settled in Lafayette County, Missouri. John married Sallie Miller and lived and died at the old home in Carter's Valley. George married - settled near Springfield, Greene County, Missouri.

My double great-grandmother (Galbraith) - maiden name was Mary Sharp Galbraith - and was a very near relative of the lawyer, Solomon Sharp, who was assassinated at Frankfort, Kentucky.

My grandfather, William Armstrong, Third, built and organized the first Presbyterian Church in this County on the farm in Carter's Valley now in possession of the Hoffmans. It was a rough hewn log structure and was also used as a school house. My great-grandfather and both wives are buried near the spot; also, one of the Maxwells - a brother of old Mrs. Lyons - and a number of other people of prominence.

This old brick mansion in which we now live, and in which all our children were born, was built by my grandfather about the year prior to 1797 - the first brick dwelling that was built in the county - and in a very short while afterward, a new brick church, New Providence, was erected on top of the hill about fifty yards due east from the site of the present church.

Aunt Julia Lyons told me the first Presbyterian service that she could remember was held here in this, our present residence, by Dr. Coffin; previous to that, there had been regular preaching for a number of years in the little Valley Church and on New Providence Hill in the grove between the road and the cemetery.

The following, taken from the chronicles of the Armstrongs, a book compiled and published by James L. Armstrong, M. D., 663 DeKalb Avenue, Brooklyn, New York. I had access to a copy belonging to Rev. Jos. R. Armstrong, Kirkwood, Missouri:

Our line of Armstrongs, William First with his father, mother, Jane, his sister, and an uncle, William Armstrong, emigrated from the County Fermanaugh, Ireland, in 1734 and settled in August County, Virginia where they resided several years when the father moved to South Carolina and died there at eighty years of age. His mother lived to be 105 years old and died in Virginia.

The son, our great-grandfather, William Second, moved to Tennessee in 1763; died in 1815 at the age of 103 years; leaving two sons, James and our grandfather, William, Third, and six daughters.

All the Irish Armstrongs, the Fermanaugh family of the 17th Century, are direct lineal descendants of John of Gilnockie.

"GENEALOGY" from a paper written by Clinton Armstrong about the year 1825-1830.

As there is a degree of curiosity inherent in almost every person to know something of their ancestry, and know what "scoundrels" their ancient blood crept through ever since the flood", I have here collected what information now to be had to gratify the curiosity of my descendants hereafter, if they have any in that way, which though it is probably it will not much exalt their vanity, yet I have observed it to be a human nature to be proud of and partial to their ancestry however ignoble.

My grandfather, William Armstrong, together with his father and mother, James and ________his sister, and his only Uncle, William Armstrong, and his grandmother, emigrated from the county of Fermanaah, Ireland, to America, and settled in Augusta County, Virginia, 1734, where they resided, a number of years when my Great frandfather James, removed to South Carolina, and shortly after died, between 70 and 80 years of age. His mother, my great-great grandmother, survived him two or three years, and died at the age of 105 years in the year 1763, in August County Virginia, from whence 15 or 16 years afterwards my grandfather removed to Tennessee, Hawkins County, where he lived the remainder of his life, died at 103 years, in the year 1815. His remains are buried on the farm in Carter's Valley, now owned by Dr. Hoffman, where he first lived. He left two sons, James and William, my Father, who was born in 1758 and six daughters. If it is esteemed a blessing to have a numerous offspring our race is peculiarly blessed, particularily by female offspring, whose offspring again is pretty equally divided, male and female, not a member scarcely of any branch of the family but have from eight to twelve children and the average would be about ten. "Tis true the male issue of the family for several generations until my grandfather is very limited, but from him it begins to grow, his two sons, James and William, have ten sons, the former six, the later four. My grandfather William, had no brother, his father, James, had one brother, William, who died without issue. His grandfather had none, nor his great grandfather, (ie. my great great great grandfather), farther back than this I cannot now get any certain information, except what little my father recollected to hear when young.

Agreeable to his account the family line could be traced to John Armstrong, a famous robber of Ireland, if such a name his character entitles him to, which agreeable to story and a ballad written on the occasion, was this.

At a period which I cannot now exactly ascertain, when the Government of Ireland was feebly administered the oppressions of the poorer people by the rich in power was carried to great extremes and redress was to be had but in their own strength. John Armstrong espoused the cause of the poor and was joined by a party of stout hearts (who took by force from the rich what they exacted of the poor) who so harrassed the oppressors of their country that he came into notice with the King, who sent Armstrong a message to appear before him to account for his conduct. Armstrong obeyed the message and such was the grandeur of his and his follower's appearances that the King took him for a prince and received him with great formality and distinction. However, when Armstrong made himself known and demanded of the King his business with him, the King ordered his life guard to secure him, but Armstrong and his party proved too strong for them until the King got a reinforcement which overpowered him, and the whole of his party together with himself fell in his defense, except his foot page, who only escaped to tell his wife and son the issue. So much for the story, how correct it is I cannot tell. The ballad written on the occasion I recollect well to have heard frequently and the story above is as the song relates it, but whether I am the descendant of his I do not know."

I think their names were Clinton, William, Arthur, your great grandfather William Armstrong married Nelly Caldwell in the Scotch Highlands. Their daughter, Sarah married George Maxwell Another daughter , Annis, married George Rutledge, 1788 these two men (notice old paper) were probably first cousins.

George Rutledge and Annis Armstrong were my great great grandparents.

George Maxwell and Sarah Armstrong (your great, great, great, grandfather) had a daughter Matilda Golding Maxwell, born Jan. 19, 1787, married August 12, 1808 to William Lyons, born March 11, 1776 (emigrated from Pennsylvania). Their son, George Maxwell Lyons born February 2, 1818, died July 3, 1867, married July 23, 1842, Julia Anne Galbraith.

Arthur Solomon Lyons married Sallie Leeper. 3-19-68

I was unable to find Jacob Armstrong on the 1850 census Tn.

Seven years after moving to Greene Co., Ill, Jacob drowned in Macoupin Creek. He had gone hunting for turkeys. When he didn't return the neighbors and the family started looking for him. They found his gun and clothes on the bank of the creek nearest home and across the creek was a dead turkey. Later that day they recovered his body. He was buried in the family cemetery on the farm/ When Dorcas Jane died his body and hers were buried at the Cemetery in Carrollton, Il., along with the body of Richard David Armstrong, infant sone of Jasper and Nettie Armstrong.

I have been unable to get any records from the couthouse in Carrollton - they state that they do not send out any vital records. From what I understand - each county has their own method in handling these records. I know I have received records from the Courthouse in Jersey Co.

I thought possibly that Jacob and Dorcas Jane were married about 1843. Four of the children I obtained the birth year from the 1860 census record of Greene Co., Il. Jasper was born in Maury Co., Tn. Thought maybe he was born when they were making their trip to Il. The other three children born in Tn. and I would assume that it was in Hawkins Co.

After Nettie died, Jasper went to Wis. to live with one of his daughters. His youngest daughter, who lived in Jersey Co., took the family and farm records for safe keeping. Some time between 1919 and 1940 the records were all destroyed. Why I don't know. If there were any records of the family while in Tn. or of their families there, they are all lost now.
